Deeply Rooted

No stance is deeply rooted. It is all a matter of your chosen, preferred time scale.

Over 5,005,500,000 years (billions)

We start with a gap in the galaxy and end with recognizable people making tools.

Over 55,000 years

We start with people hunting and gathering food, with tools, and end with civilizations and religions.

Over 550 years

We start with Kings launching ships exploring the globe and end with a President launching a rocket to explore the moon.

Over 5 years

We start with a President dividing the People and end with another President reuniting the northern hemisphere.

Nothing written on parchment 250 years ago is without room for reinterpretation; is so deeply rooted in history without showing its age.

So, let's start with the crux of the issues, "We the People", or those who were not property nor otherwise disenfranchised at the time.

We the People... 1776 and beyond
